FOREWORD

WITHIN THE CONFINES OF HAMPDEN-SYDNEY COLLEGE, THERE HAVE BEEN BORN AND NURTURED A GALAXY OF BEAUTIFUL AND BRILLIANT TRADITIONS, WHICH HAVE BECOME DEAR TO EVERY NOBLE SCION OF THE COLLEGE. DOWN THROUGH THE YEARS THESE TRADITIONS HAVE COME, EVER INCREASING IN NUMBERS, POWERS AND PULCHRITUDE, UNTIL THE COURSE OF TIME HAS SEEN THEIR EMBODIMENT IN THE BEING OF A MYTHICAL TIGER, WHICH WE FEEL TO BE IMBUED WITH THAT NOBLE AND CONQUERING SPIRIT FOR WHICH WE ARE SO FAMOUS. IN THIS GUISE, THE HAMPDEN-SYDNEY OF THE PAST, COUPLED WITH THAT OF THE PRESENT, FOLLOWS US INTO THE CLASSROOM, ON THE ATHLETIC FIELD, IN ALL OF OUR EXTRA-CURRICULA ACTIVITIES, AND EVEN BEYOND THE LIMITS OF OUR CAMPUS, TO THE WORLD AT LARGE. TO THE PICTORIAL PRESENTATION OF OUR COLLEGE LIFE, UNDER THE PERPETUAL INFLUENCE OF THIS TIGER, ARE DEVOTED THE PAGES OF THIS THE FORTY-SECOND VOLUME OF THE KALEIDOSCOPE.

SENIOR CLASS HISTORY

Looking backward across our span of four years at Hampden-Sydney, we see that our lives here have been affected by a huge cloud of influences, often rich, sometimes trivial, entirely different from those we encountered in our pre-college period of existence. Overnight we stepped from the protecting arms of our families into a new and strange life of tradition, which has changed us into new individuals. We acquired something new and distinctive (even if nothing more than garnet and gray "rat caps") that made us, as Hampden-Sydney students, easily distinguishable from other individuals, especially in the neighboring town of Farmville. We were now living in our own world, in our own way, to the tune of Hampden-Sydney traditions which have been built up constantly since 1776.

As our Sophomore year descended upon us a slight feeling of responsibility began to grow within us. It now seemed that the tradition, in which we firmly believed, made us responsible for the conduct of the Freshman Class—and what a responsibility! We fully realized that, after the said Freshman Class rebelled to our rules, and nearly "busted" a good many of our swelled Sophomore heads in the spring of 1934.

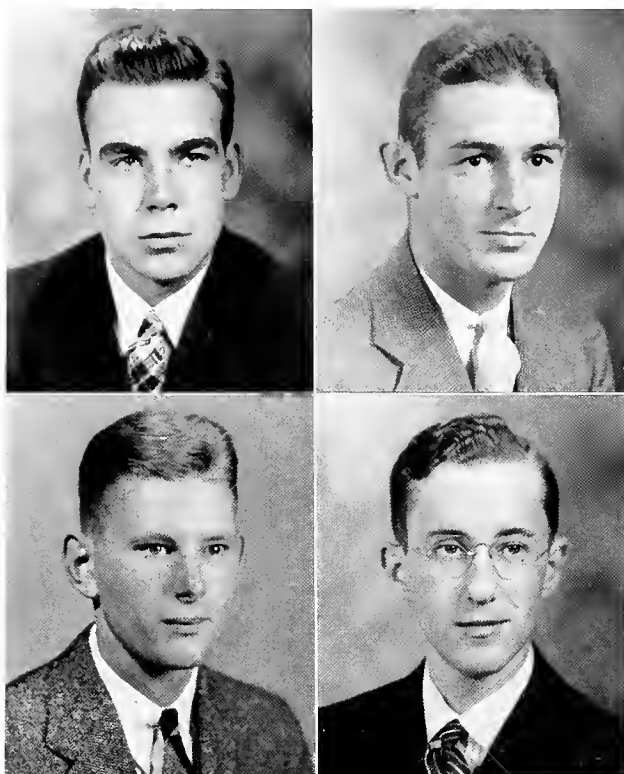

Our days became swelled with strenuous occupation. Sleep became a rare thing that we just couldn't get enough of, and there seemed to be a feeling that "The night cometh when no man can work." It was always infinitely easier to lounge in a window sill in somebody's room and participate in a "bull session," than to sit in solitude and glean what our textbooks had to offer.

In our Junior year we began to look faintly into the future and wonder what we would turn out to be. We struggled to become managers, editors and officers of our college organizations so that we might gain valuable training to be of use to us in later years. We now knew that efficient class work was very essential to college success, and as a result studying was done with diligence and seriousness.

Now that we are Seniors we have the burden of the present upon us in reality and that of the future upon our minds. Seniors are far more serious-minded as a whole than the members of the three lower classes. We are little aware of the fact that Hampden-Sydney has given us something that will last to our deaths, however. No one knows our destination after we leave this world of college idealism, but we feel fortunate that we have had the great privilege of having had instilled into us that "something" which Hampden-Sydney College gives to its graduates that makes them such distinctive figures in the world at large.

Years hence it is quite possible that many of us will return to visit these now familiar scenes with the hope that they will bring back to us pleasant and amusing memories of the things that we are living and doing now. We, as Seniors, bid farewell to the experiences of Hampden-Sydney College life, which will form the happiest memories of our later years.

JUNIOR CLASS HISTORY

It is a common fact that what will be history tomorrow is in the headlines today. Such a fact is never truer than in the course of events that make up the history of a class of students. And so, with a little observation of headlines, columns, feature stories and the like, the history of just such a class—the Class of '37—can be traced in the files of the Tiger. Let us turn back to the fall of '33, to the time when the incoming class, the ever-verdant frosh, are the chief topics of interest, in fact—"headliners":

"College Begins 158th Session With Largest Freshman Class on Record."

"Frosh Football Prospects Point to Varsity Material."

"Freshmen Urged to Enter Into Campus Activities With Vim."

Later in the year, affairs of a social and intellectual nature are featured:

"Eighty Men Pledged as H.-S. Fraternities End Rushing Period."

"Dr. D. M. Allan Finds Freshman Class of Normal Intelligence."

The eternal battle between Freshmen and Sophomores afforded great news stories for the reporters in the case of '37—evidences of the spirit and pep of that class:

"Sophomores to Chastize the Class of '37 for 'Painting Up'."

"Rebellious Freshmen Cause Much Anxiety for Troubled Sophs."

"The Upper Classes Move to Suppress Freshman Rebellion."

The honor of the Class of '37 was upheld on the athletic field, as evidenced by headlines such as these:

"Letters Won by Bernier and Ebel in Basketball . . . Spencer in Baseball . . .

Montgomery in Track."

But little did the Freshmen of the Class of '37 realize that their days of "crashing the headlines" were just about over. The activities of a new class are of vital interest and the number and character of news stories it supplies during its first year indicate to a large degree the future success of the class as a whole and of its individual members. So, although the front page wasn't "made" quite as often in the years that followed, behind the news was a quietly working class, diligently applying itself to the tasks at hand. Slowly but surely it was making its presence felt on the campus of Hampden-Sydney—in social, spiritual, journalistic, fraternal, intellectual, literary, and athletic activities, a few of which, like the following, can be found on the pages of the newspaper, but most of which took place behind the printed page:

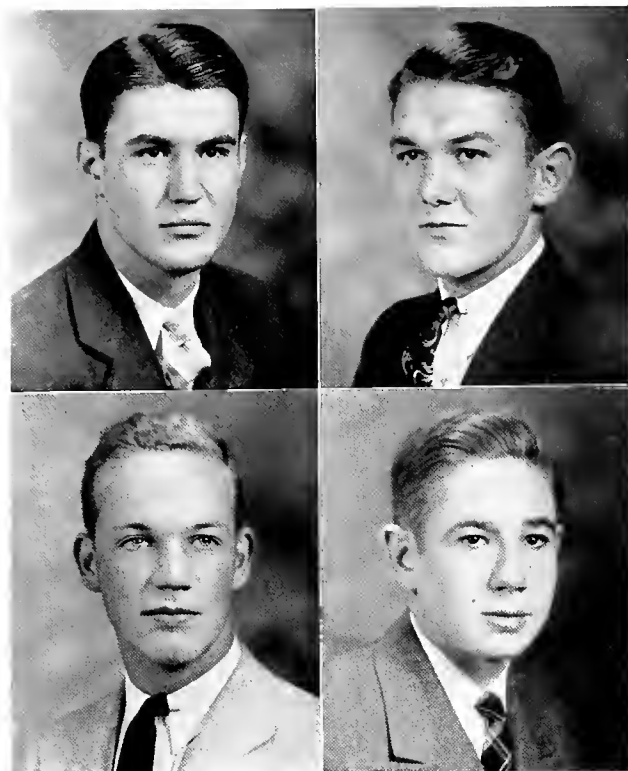

"Sophs Rule Freshmen With Iron Hand."

"Chambers, Williams, Hall, Harshbarger Make Letters in Football . . .

Eason, Thacker, Moss in Baseball."

Whether or not '37 will make the headlines during the last months of its college career remains to be seen. Whether the class as a whole or any of its individuals will make news for some editor in the years to come, also remains to be seen—and read. But this is true—every member of the Class of '37 will take with him when he graduates memories of the news that became headlines, of feature stories that brought a good laugh, and of countless happenings, associations, and ideals that will help brighten many a dull moment and prod many a lagging ambition.

SOPHOMORE CLASS HISTORY

"The Assyrian came down like a wolf on the fold, and his cohorts were gleaming with purple and gold . . ." But this time the gleaming colors were garnet and gray, and the much-puffed-up Sophomore Class was bearing down on a fold containing 121 innocent Freshmen. Oh, how well we remember our hectic first night on campus with the Sophs teaching us to "sound-off," and making us "run the gauntlet" from the old well. That first week of orientation, climaxed by the donning of rat caps, will long be remembered by every man of '38.

Coach Bernier's call for future Formwalts was answered by 25 stalwart Freshmen, from whom was moulded a football team that proudly carried the name of '38 into Death Valley. Fraternity rushing had us in a storm for the next few weeks, but finally 70 of us were pledged to the social fraternities of the Hill. Goating for the frats brought us into closer contact with our fellow thirty-eighters, and we began to see college in a new light. It didn't take long for the men of '38 to get started in campus activities. Eight men were taken into the Tiger staff and similar groups of ambitious Freshmen were taken into both the business and editorial staffs of the KALEIDOSCOPE and the Magazine.

It became evident as the year went on that the Class of '38 was not content with invading the social and scholastic spheres alone. On the gridiron we were indeed proud of "Telay" Hyde, while "Squat" McCallion and "Blackie" Blackman starred in basketball. "Red" Hudson and "Bobo" Kincaid won their letters in track, while the innovation of a successful Freshman golf team brought new laurels to the Class of '38. At our first official meeting we chose Bob Harper to lead us in our campus activities for the year. We also elected Gene Caldwell to be his assistant and Bill Leftwich to manage our finances and record our meetings.

No class history can possibly be complete without some mention of numerals, and in this respect '38's history was no exception. Three separate times our darling digits adorned the familiar walks, and consequently three times were we slapped on campus by the indignant Sophs. However, we may still be proud of a scarlet '38, which looks down on the Students' Club (thanks to a Stagger Inn brush artist and another Stagger Inn dare-devil).

Upon returning to college this year 100 strong, we looked back on our Freshman days with mixed emotions—too mixed, in fact, to be confined to a printed page. However, we did descend from our pinnacle of newly-acquired omnipotence long enough to elect another splendid set of officers: Herb Webb, president; Day Edwards, vice-president; and Bill Leftwich, again secretary and treasurer. We didn't all return to share another year of college life together, but you can bank on the fact that the gay times, the close friendships, and the lasting impressions of our first year at college will live long in the hearts of every thirty-eighter.

FRESHMAN CLASS HISTORY

On Tuesday and Wednesday during the second week of September, we who were to comprise the Class of '39 hurried busily through the seemingly endless labyrinth of matriculation, and the campus assumed its usually spectacular shade of green.

Classes began on Thursday as scheduled, and on Friday the thirteenth (fatal day!) we received the long-expected baptism of Sophomore "fire." Nights of terror and trials which we had dreaded for months passed swiftly on.

The conjectural greenish hue was soon effaced by more gleaming red, in the form of numerals, now here, now there, and everywhere about the campus, much to the confusion of the upperclassmen in general and much to the delight of the members of the "Freshman Governing Council."

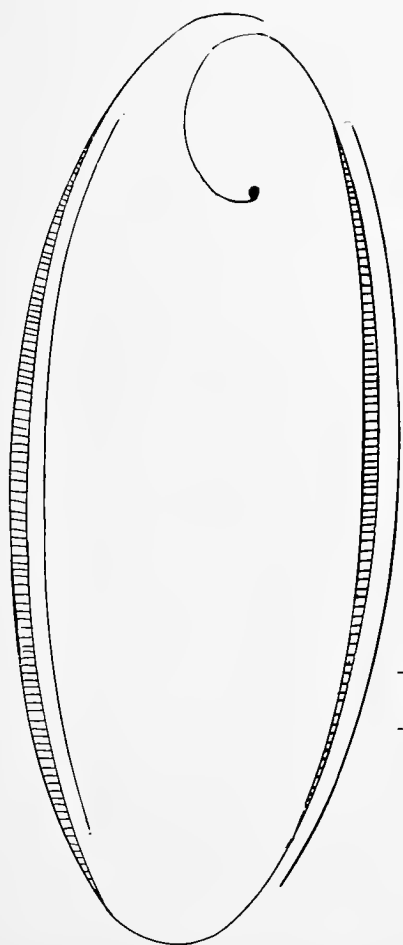

The increasing boom in the "attendance" of the boys at V. C. came to a climax with roll call for Freshmen in front of Farmville post office, Friday, November the twenty-second. This unique gathering of our class was held preliminary to taking up—with soap, water, and toothbrush—glaring 39's which had appeared on the sidewalks several nights before. After several hours of apparently diligent scrubbing, the numerals were considered sufficiently polished and shined, upon which the pleasure for the afternoon came to an end.

Freshman regulations ceased with the advent of the Christmas vacation. Much to the delight of our class and to the disgust of nearly everyone else, we were to be henceforth practically free, and theoretically equal to our associates. Of course, there was that little item of conditioning the athletic fields for perspiring managers, but this proved to be little more than the usual exercise to which we subject ourselves each day.

The new and unexperienced thrill of examinations left us gasping for breath during the early part of February, which, combined with the snowiest winter in years, accomplished the end of fagging us out completely before spring fever even had a chance to set in, for indeed spring only came according to the calendar, and the day the baseball team played Haverford a little flurry of snow fell. Easter vacations saw us bundled off for home, many of us for the first time since examinations, shivering beneath winter overcoats.

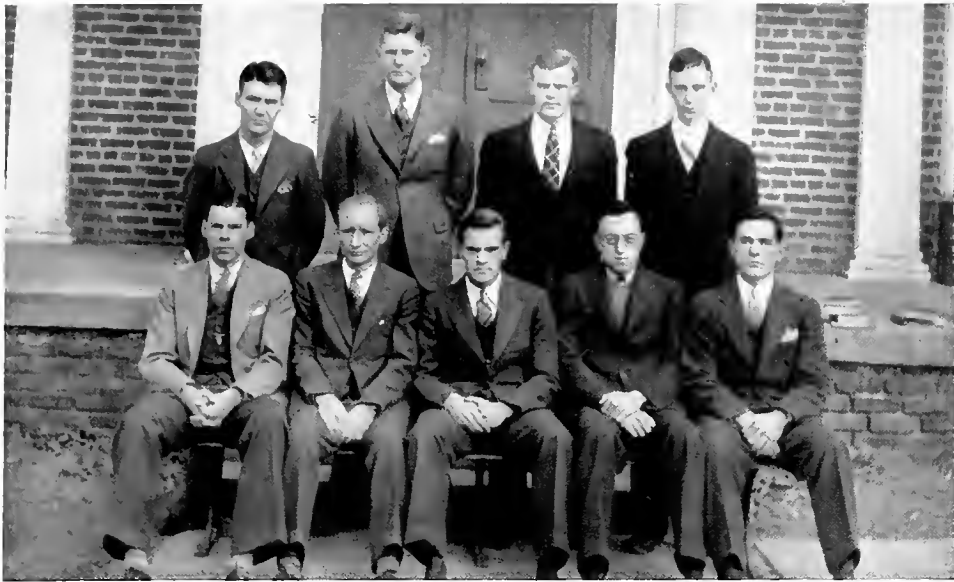

But warm weather cannot be foiled, and with the grip of winter finally succumbing to the sunshine of a late spring, we face in the not far distant future our second siege of those gruelling examinations—what then?

EDITORIAL STAFF

To perpetuate in your minds the happy memories of the days spent on this campus has been the aim of the 1936 KALEIDOSCOPE. We have attempted to portray them accurately and without bias. Should you see fit to favorably receive this volume, our efforts shall not have been in vain, and we shall have been amply repaid for the many hours spent in its preparation.

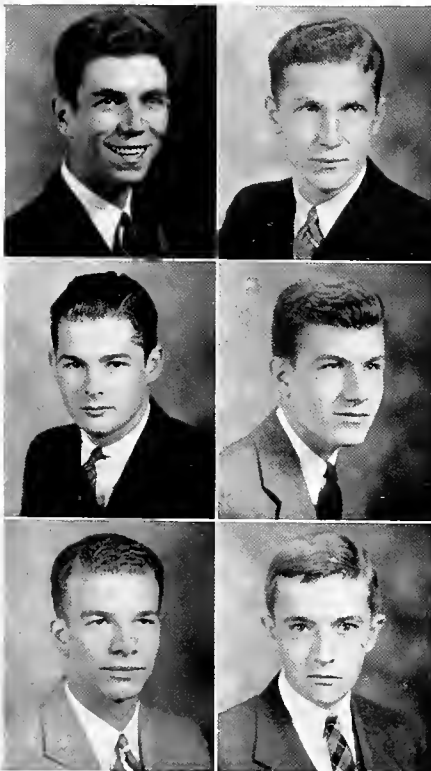

Although there are other American colleges who call their loyal sons Tigers, we believe this to be the first college annual to project the Tiger in life-like poses into the various student activities. We want the Tiger to seem an intrinsic part of Hampden-Sydney College.

With more students than ever before enrolled in college, with national code regulations prohibiting many of our regular advertisers from buying space in annuals, and with the disbursements from the college to the KALEIDOSCOPE very little more than in preceding years, it has been very difficult for the business staff to meet rapidly advancing prices in the printing and engraving business. These advertisers from whom we have secured business deserve the patronage of the entire student body.

It had been planned to incorporate a certain amount of color into the make-up of the book, but we were forced to omit it in order to balance the budget.

Working always toward its ideal of service to the student body as an organ of college news and as a medium for expression of student opinion, The Tiger presented a continually improved sheet during its sixteenth year. The Collegiate Digest, pictorial sheet of nation-wide college news, was added. Definite progress toward technical perfection in the make-up of the paper and the style of the writing was effected.

The Tiger became affiliated with the Associated Collegiate Press at the beginning of the year. The fearless editorial policy, unhampered by faculty censorship, was continued.

Again increasing its budget and its advertising range, the '35-'36 business staff of The Tiger leave the paper on a sound financial basis. The addition of the Collegiate Digest proved to be a financial as well as editorial improvement. Advertising contracts, both national and local, were increased, as was the list of exchanges, some going as far as California.

While some hoped-for permanent additions to the equipment of the paper have not yet been made, and there remains room for improvement in the organization and efficient functioning of the business staff, much has been accomplished.

The editorial staff of the 1935-36 Magazine was taxed to the limit to live up to the standard set by the 1934-35 issues, which were the second best in the state for that year. The task was successfully accomplished by the very small active staff and in spite of lack of support by the student body.

The size, cover design, and make-up of the Magazine were changed, and the result, a very neat and modern-looking publication, was well received by the students and alumni.

The staff of the 1935-36 Magazine aimed to make it the best in the state for that year.

No one looked through the advertisement section of the 1935-36 Magazine without realizing the efficiency and earnestness of the Business Staff. An unusually large number of local advertisements and the largest amount of national advertising ever to grace the pages of the Magazine were the fruits of their hard labor. Large circulation and prompt distribution after publication were accomplished by the staff.

C. D. Shelburne and his staff faced the task of making expenses to meet the largest budget ever required to publish the Magazine. So well was their work done that the publication ended the year in the "blue."

Instigated last fall through the efforts of Coach Charles A. Bernier, Alumni Secretary George L. Walker, Assistant Coach Dave Reveley, and the three students listed above, The Hampden-Sydney Press Club functioned throughout the year with marked success. It has been highly complimented by the Associated Press, who attributes to its activities a uniformity and consistency in news from the college that was absent before its formation. It has the distinction of being the first organization of its kind in the state, and affords students here, as it were, a college of applied journalism. Senior members will be elected each spring, and will be awarded gold keys at the completion of their duties.

UBLICATIONS AND ORGANIZATIONS PLAY AN IMPORTANT PART IN THE STUDENT'S LIFE AT HAMPDEN-SYDNEY. THE THREE PUBLICATIONS, NAMELY, THE KALEIDOSCOPE, COLLEGE YEARBOOK, THE TIGER, STUDENT NEWSPAPER, AND THE MAGAZINE, ARE FREE FROM FACULTY CENSORSHIP, AND ARE TRULY PUBLICATIONS BY, OF, AND FOR THE STUDENT BODY. ANY PERSON WITH THE WILL TO WORK IS ELIGIBLE FOR POSITION ON THE STAFFS OF THESE ORGANS, AND ADVANCEMENT IS THEN GOVERNED BY ABILITY AND APPLICATION. THE COLLEGE CHARGES A REGULAR CAMPUS FEE OF TWENTY-ONE DOLLARS, WHICH GOES TOWARD THEIR SUPPORT AS WELL AS TO THE OTHER CAMPUS ORGANIZATIONS. A FINANCE BOARD, COMPOSED OF THE EDITORS, BUSINESS MANAGERS, TREASURERS, ETC., GOVERNS THE EXPENDITURES OF THE VARIOUS MEMBERS, AND PUTS THE HEADS OF THE PUBLICATIONS ON A STRICT SALARY BASIS. DEAN MACON REED AND MR. P. T. ATKINSON ARE STANDING MEMBERS OF THE BOARD, AND SUPERVISE, WITHOUT DICTATING, ITS ACTIVITIES.

THE STUDENTS' CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION HAS ABSORBED THE FUNCTIONS OF THE Y. M. C. A., AND IS INTRINSICALLY AN ORGANIZATION OF THE SAME TYPE.

THE LITERARY SOCIETY IS INDISPENSABLE IN THE DEVELOPMENT OF ORATORICAL AND FORENSIC ABILITIES, AS IS THE PRESS CLUB IN THE DEVELOPMENT OF JOURNALISTIC ABILITIES. THE GLEE CLUB PROVIDES AN OPPORTUNITY THAT IS TANTAMOUNT TO A REGULAR VOICE CLASS, AND THE COLLEGE PROVIDES A RESIDENT INSTRUCTOR FOR ITS TUTELAGE. THE JONGLEURS, COLLEGE DRAMATIC CLUB, GIVES A FALL PLAY IN COLLABORATION WITH S. T. C., AND A SPRING ONE IN WHICH FEMININE ROLES ARE LUDICROUSLY PORTRAYED BY MALE TALENT.

WHEN HAZING WAS REDUCED TO A MINIMUM AT HAMPDEN-SYDNEY, A FRESHMAN TRIAL COURT WAS FORMED BY POPULAR ELECTION FROM THE THREE UPPER CLASSES, TO HEAR, PASS JUDGMENT UPON, AND ADMINISTER PUNISHMENT TO ALL OFFENDING FROSH.

 SOCIAL FRATERNITIES MAKE A HUGE CONTRIBUTION TO THE ENJOYMENT OF THE YEARS SPENT IN COLLEGE. THE YEAR IN WHICH WE NOW LIVE HAS SEEN NUMEROUS ENTERTAINMENTS SPONSORED AND FINANCED BY THESE GROUPS, WITH A GOOD DEAL OF SUCCESS. THE SEVEN SOCIAL BROTHERHOODS ON THE CAMPUS HAVE COLLABORATED ON TWO DANCE SETS, ONE OF WHICH WAS HELD IN THE FALL, AND THE OTHER IN EARLY SPRING. PI KAPPA ALPHA HAS GIVEN A SET OF MID-WINTERS, AND AS WE GO TO PRESS CHI PHI AND KAPPA SIGMA ARE PLANNING FOR SPRING PARTIES. NON-FRATERNITY MEN PROFIT AS WELL AS MEMBERS, FOR INVITATIONS ARE EXTENDED TO NUMBERS OF THEM. TEAS, BUFFET SUPPERS, SMOKERS, BRIDGE PARTIES, AND BANQUETS COMPLETE THE WELL-ROUNDED SEASON. FOR THE FOSTERING OF KINDLY SPIRIT AMONG THE GROUPS, THREE RIBBON SOCIETIES, SIGMA, PHI, AND 7 I-2, INITIATE A CERTAIN NUMBER OF MEN FROM EACH FRATERNITY, AND THESE SOCIETIES HOLD AN ANNUAL "GOAT-WEEK" AND BANQUET.

THE Kappa Alpha Fraternity was established, in 1865, at Washington and Lee University. In 1899, the fraternity was introduced at Hampden-Sydney, and a few years ago the local chapter erected its own house. Its official organ is the Kappa Alpha Journal, and the secret organ is the Special Messenger. A Kappa Alpha sweetheart would loyally wear a corsage of magnolias and red roses, and crimson and old gold are its official colors.

IN 1856 the Theta Chi Fraternity was founded at Norwich University. For nearly sixty years the fraternity had no members at Hampden-Sydney, but finally in 1914 Nu Chapter was installed here, and the local group built the first fraternity house to occupy the right-hand side of fraternity row. The official organ is the Rattle, and the flower is the red carnation.

With the Tigers

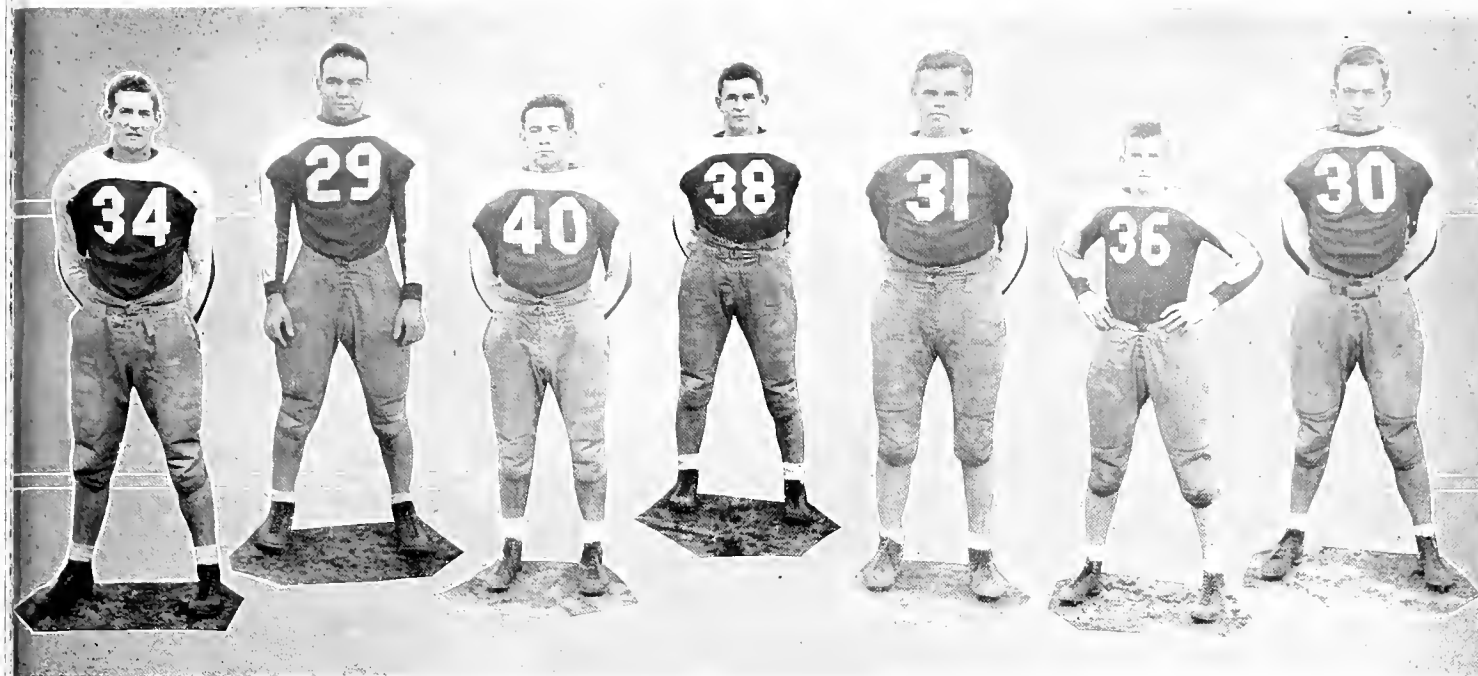

ON THE GRIDIRON

Early practice began on September 3rd, when Coach Bernier invited the following men to report for duty: Formwalt, Harshbarger, Becker, Bob Kincaid, McCann, Conrad Stone, Pedigo, James Armistead, John Hall, Chambers, Bill Price, John Kincaid, Kinks Thompson, Tom Hall, Fred Williams, Steed, Douglass, Bernier, Burrell, Limpy White, John Richardson, Hyde, McCallion, Webb, Lou White, and the Ogden twins. Much was expected of Captain Formwalt, Douglass, Limpy White, and Frank Hyde, all of whom had previously distinguished themselves on the gridiron.

The opening game of the season was played with Virginia Military Institute on a neutral field in Lynchburg. Both teams were given a great deal of publicity by the newspapers, but V. M. I. was the favorite. Throwing a well-oiled backfield into motion behind perfect interference, the Keydets took the field, scoring once in the first quarter and twice in the second. At the beginning of the third quarter, Clark took the pigskin on our kick-off and ran it eighty-five yards through a completely shattered Tiger defense for the fourth touchdown. From that time on the Tigers fought with their backs to the wall and held the Keydet scoring machine on their own side of the field. However, a rejuvenated Hampden-Sydney eleven was unable to score, and the game ended 26 to 0 in favor of the Keydets. Looking at the game from a standpoint of the last half alone, it was much closer than the score indicated.

Rated as under-dogs with a Cavalier team that had the week before held William and Mary to a scoreless tie, the Hampden-Sydney Tigers, undaunted by, but a little wiser from their opening game defeat, went to Charlottesville and pounced upon the Virginia gridsters for a 12 to 7 victory. Although the Cavaliers led them by the marginal score of 7 to 6 at the half, the Tigers came back in the second frame to push the pigskin over for the winning touchdown. Limpy White made both touchdowns, and largely because of his showing in this game was given "All-American Mention." However, we must not give him too much credit, for extra credit must also go to Formwalt, Douglass, and Hyde for their good showing.

Langley Field was the Tigers' next opponent, and rating as the favorites, the Tigers entered the enemy's domain with high hopes. Finding their opponents much tougher than they had expected, and not being able to make much headway through an unyielding line, Hampden-Sydney resorted to an aerial attack, which netted eight completions out of seventeen attempts in the first half. Each time they came to within scoring distance, fate intervened, and for one reason or another, none of which rightly explained itself, the Tigers lost the ball. Numerous fumbles occurred, two-yard drives were stopped by a determined Langley Field line, and finally it was the fourth quarter with the score unchanged from the start. Here the Tigers blocked a punt behind the Langley Field line, and led by a 2 to 0 score. In the last minute of play, when victory was practically in the Tigers' hands, the intrepid Thomas intercepted a pass from Bernier and ran eighty yards for a touchdown for the Aviators. Before Hampden-Sydney could do any more than start the ball back down the field, the whistle blew, and the Langley Field Airmen hung the broken prop of the Tiger aerial attack in their mess hall, with a 6 to 2 score painted above it.

Having defeated Bridgewater 60 to 0 the week before, and having one of the strongest teams in the history of the college, American University came to Death Valley determined to defeat the Tigers in their first home game of the season. They played a hard game and fought up to the last minute, threatening even then to win. But an even more determined Hampden-Sydney eleven repulsed their distinctly running attack, and returned a running and passing attack that netted a touchdown for each of the Eagles' tallies. Our advantage lay in powers of conversion, which Limpy White executed after each of our touchdowns, and the Eagles left with the small end of the 14 to 12 score.

Going into North Carolina to play Catawba, the Tigers met the stiffest competition they had so far encountered. The Indians brought the offense to the Tigers, and a strong running and tricky lateral pass attack netted them four touchdowns and two extra points to the Hampden-Sydney lone tally. Result: Hampden-Sydney 6; Catawba 26.

The next week-end Hampden-Sydney played Bridgewater, and found them more formidable than was expected. But the Tigers were ready to show the winning hand, and with Douglass and Bernier in the backfield tossing the pigskin across the line of scrimmage to the waiting arms of Captain Bill Formwalt, the Tigers tallied four times, with the Bridgewater Eagles unable to stop them. The game ended with Hampden-Sydney on the big end of a 24 to 0 score.

The following Saturday the Tiger eleven journeyed to Annapolis and defeated St. Johns for the first time in three years. The Johnnies started off like wildfire, but after scoring a single touchdown the Tiger offense began to click, and a backfield composed of Douglass, White, Hyde, and Bernier followed an able line to four touchdowns and victory. The conversion feature, which had failed miserably the week-end before, was successful in all but one case, and this by a close margin.

The celebrated day of the Richmond game dawned bright and clear to find practically the entire student body and faculty in Richmond, prepared to carry their team to victory by the strength of their cheers. The game was hard fought and a real tough loss for the battling Tigers. The Spiders marked up their first tally in the second quarter on a pass made after the passer had been nearly downed. In retaliation, Birch Douglass beautifully executed a fake kick and ran around Richmond's right end behind perfect interference for sixty yards and a touchdown. White converted, and for a joyous but short-lived moment it seemed that the Tigers might triumph. However, a determined Spider backfield took the ball from our kick-off and marched it through a series of first downs to a second touchdown. This was the last score of the day, and the Tiger team and rooters must content themselves with thoughts of reversing the 15 to 7 score next season.

On Homecoming Day the alumni returned to the Hill to see a strong Tiger eleven splash their way to victory over Swarthmore on a field that was better fitted for boating than for football. Limpy White and Frank Hyde scored a touchdown apiece for the Tigers, and the first time White was able to lift the mud-laden ball over the goal posts. The second time the conversion attempt failed, and although Swarthmore twice threatened to cross the Tiger line, they were each time repulsed, and when the whistle blew Hampden-Sydney had 13 points to Swarthmore's goose-egg.

The final game of the season was played with Randolph-Macon at Ashland, with the Chesapeake Conference title at stake. The Yellow Jackets had been undefeated during the season and were determined to annex the title, at the same time keeping their slate clean of defeat. The Tigers were equally determined to defeat them and win the title for themselves, but in weather that was cold enough to freeze brass monkeys succumbed to a heavier Yellow Jacket eleven. The Jackets twice crossed the Tiger goal and twice converted, but, undaunted, the stalwart sons of Hampden-Sydney staged a late come-back that netted one touchdown from Richardson, and bade fair to make another, when the whistle ended the season, with the score Hampden-Sydney 6, Randolph-Macon 14.

In numbers, which are really too hard and unyielding to be always just, the Tiger eleven split, with five won and five lost. Actually the team did better than that, for the games lost were closer than the games won.

The BASKETBALL SEASON

When the 1935-36 practice for basketball began, Coach Bernier found himself with four varsity men from last year's squad, in addition to Birch Douglass, who had been ineligible the previous season. From the beginning the squad looked promising, and hopes ran high for a successful year.

The season opened with a game here against the Union Theological Seminary, and after running up a safe lead with the varsity during the first half, Coach Bernier sent in the reserves to show what they could do. Douglass started the season off with a bang and led the scoring for the evening with a grand total of 16 points. Bill Formwalt was close behind with 10 points, and when the game ended the Seminary boys had to be satisfied with the very much smaller end of a 45 to 19 score.

The Petersburg Y. M. C. A. was the next victim of the Tiger onslaught. Early in the first half the teams seemed evenly matched, but as the game wore on the team from the "Hill" forged steadily ahead until the scoreboard read: Hampden-Sydney 61, Petersburg Y. M. C. A. 25. This was intended for a practice game, and in the last half every man on the squad was given a chance to display his wares before the critical eyes of Tiger mentors.

In the third game of the season the Tiger quint met its first defeat of the season at the hands of a strong Richmond College team down at the state capital. A crowd of 800 Old Dominion basketball enthusiasts attended the game, and interest was concentrated on Formwalt and Brown, who were already recognized as contenders for the state high point honors. Although these two men garnered fifteen points apiece for their team, the game was not close and the Spiders won, 52-33.

Following this, the team invaded four Northern colleges—American University, Saint Johns, Haverford, and Swarthmore. In the first two contests the Tigers were successful, but in both the latter games they succumbed to stronger fives. The American U. contest was a decisive victory for the Hampden-Sydney boys, who easily knocked them down to the tune of 41-22. Saint Johns proved to be made of stouter stuff, but after a bitter struggle the visitors emerged with the heavy end of the 36-30 score. Williard Craft, a Freshman, was the high point man of the game with a total of ten points.

Journeying on northward, the team arrived at Philadelphia, and that night took on a strong Haverford quint. The Quakers got off to a fast start and amassed a big lead in the first half, and although the Tigers came back in the second frame with a substantial rally, the early scoring spree of the home team held, and the visitors must content themselves with the wrong end of the 32 to 23 score.

Crossing the city for the next night found them in the domain of Haverford's greatest rivals—Swarthmore. Here the Tigers played good ball, but found their opponents too powerful for them. Bill Formwalt was high scorer with twelve points to his credit, and Freshman Craft made three field goals and sank three out of three foul shots. This last achievement was something the varsity could not reproduce, and on one heartbreaking occasion lost a game on account of it. When the game was over the score read 48 to 30 in favor of Swarthmore.

On their return to the campus, the team crushed the Shawnee A. C. of Lynchburg to the count of 45 to 23. Coach again used his entire squad. In the first few seconds of play Hampden-Sydney drew blood at the hands of Douglass, and from then on they were not to be stopped, and even the lowliest substitute made at least one point. The shooting and floor play of Formwalt was the feature of the home team's attack.

When the team went to Bridgewater they had no difficulty and outclassed the Eagles in every department of the game. The Hampden-Sydney team made few attempts at the basket that did not materialize into scoring points. This was one of the smoothest games the Garnet and Gray played in the entire season. The score was rather one-sidedly in favor of the visitors, who chalked up 56 points to their 24.

The Tigers lost to William and Mary at Williamsburg, but the Indians had to fight hard for their scalp. Behind ten points at the half, the boys from Death Valley put on a scoring spree that carried the count to 37 and 35 and threatened to go over the top, but a determined Indian drive stopped them short of their goal and carried their own score to 43 while the Tiger tallies remained at 35. Ferdinand Ebel, later elected captain of the 1936-37 quint, distinguished himself as high scorer in this game with eighteen points.

Steed, Baylor, Spencer, Buchinsky, Craft.

The game with Lynchburg, who was last year's Chesapeake Conference champion, was the fastest and roughest game of the season. The Tigers remembered their defeat in the post-season game last year of 29-30 and were out for revenge, while the Hornets were equally determined to remain champions. Douglass played a brilliant game, and was high point man for the Tigers, while Saunders was the ace scorer for the visitors. This was perhaps the most faultless game the Tigers played all season, and they well deserved the big end of the 48 to 38 score.

The undefeated Spider quint were the next invaders of the Tigers' lair and had little trouble in defeating them, 58 to 25. Most of the interest in the game was centered on Brown of Richmond U. and Formwalt of Hampden-Sydney, who held first and second scoring honors in the state at the time. The Tigers fought to the finish, but were outclassed.

The game with V. P. I. was staged in the S. T. C. gymnasium, and was a big disappointment. Both the Techmen and the Tigers played a ragged game, but the home team just couldn't seem to find the basket. During the entire first half and all but five minutes of the second the Tigers failed to chalk up a single field goal. With five minutes to play in the entire game, they came back fighting and rang up a total of thirteen points, which, however, were entirely inadequate to overcome the steady scoring of the Techmen. The final score was V. P. I. 26, Hampden-Sydney 15.

The team showed a complete reversal of form when they played Randolph-Macon, and scored 25 points before the Jackets tallied. Near the end of the half Coach Bernier sent in his second team and they increased the lead which had been given them. Bill Formwalt was high scorer of the evening, making a total of 23 points, in addition to playing fine defensive ball.

The next game was with the Medical College, which the Tigers swamped, 52 to 25. The game would have been uninteresting had it not been for the fact that Formwalt ran up 30 points to put himself at the top of the list of state high scorers. When the second team went in they proved that the future varsity men had ability also.

In their second game with V. P. I., the Tigers made more field goals, but their opponents came out ahead due to sinking a greater number of foul shots. The lead changed hands five times in this game, and the final score was 27 to 23 in favor of the Techmen.

In another rough and tumble game with Lynchburg the Tigers won, 53 to 44. During the game forty fouls were called. The Tiger attack clicked from the first play of the game, which netted a score.

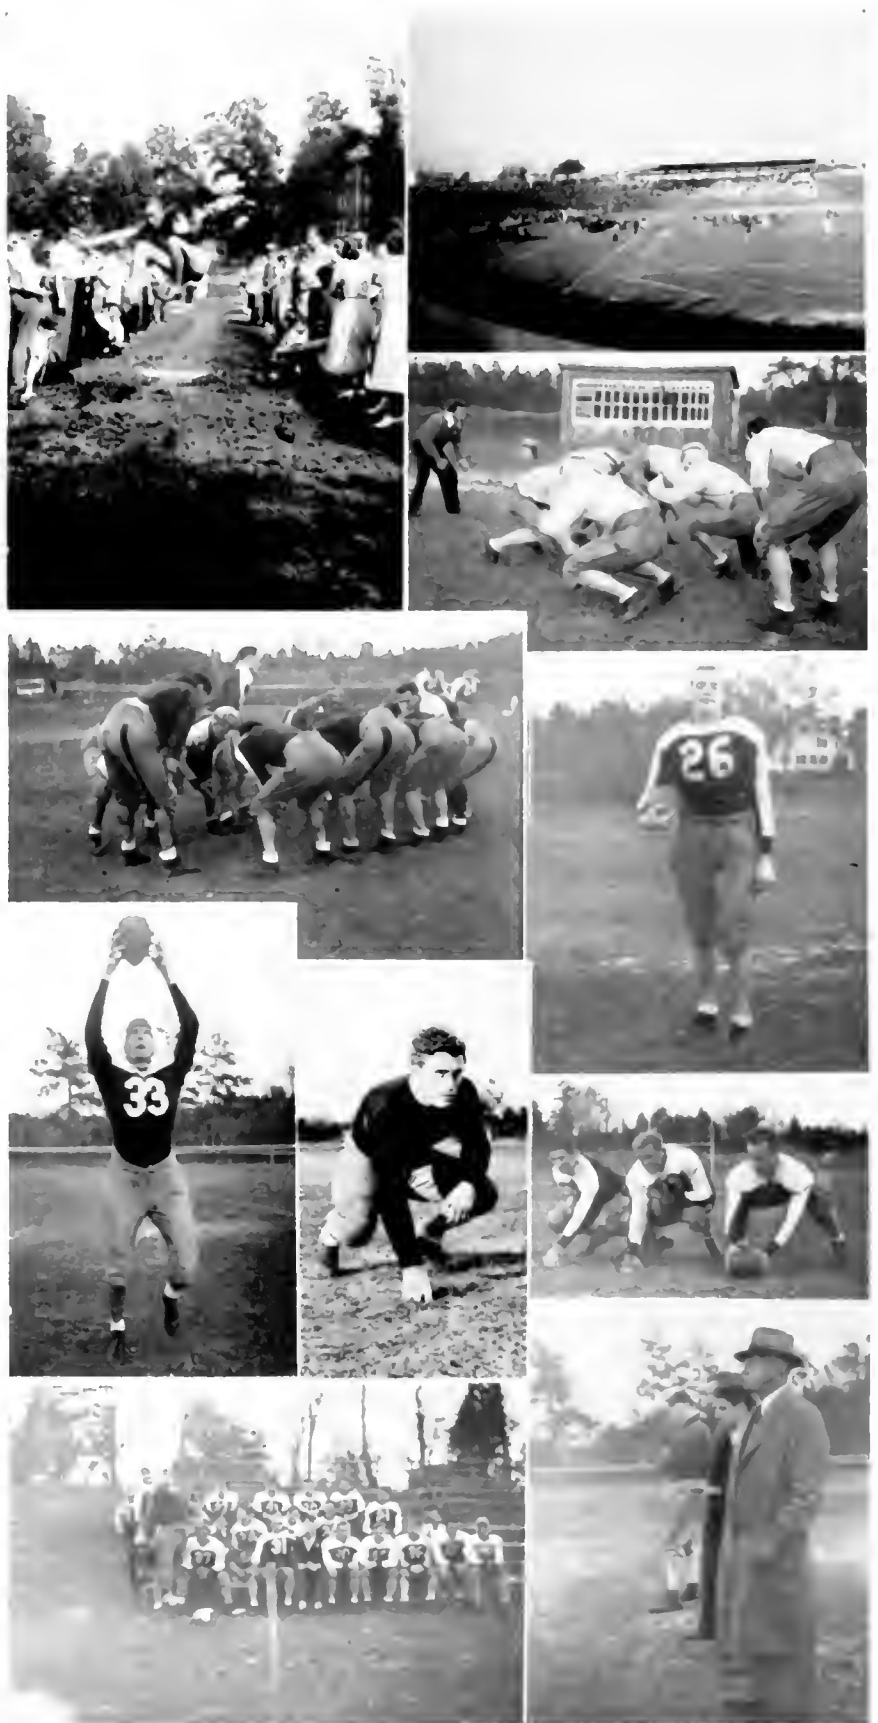

In a heartbreaking defeat at the hands of Randolph-Macon, the Tigers suffered their first conference defeat. The game went into two overtime periods before it was finally settled. In the first of these each team made a field goal, but in the second the Jackets made a field goal and the Tigers only a foul goal, thus losing, 35 to 34.

In the last game of the season Formwalt ran up a total of 34 points to secure the title of state high scorer and contribute to the 51-22 defeat of American U.

1935 on the DIAMOND

Baseball practice began for the 1935 season with an appalling lack of pitchers. Douglass, the only experienced pitcher in college, was ineligible. So with a handful of raw recruits, Tiger mentors went about the job of building a Hampden-Sydney battery. Before the season had been far advanced, Eason, Moss, Thacker, and Bernier were beginning to round into shape. Hodgson, Spencer, Leake, and the two Ogdens filled the infield berths, and Campbell, Mayes, Moss, and Thomas served in the outfield.

The first two games were scheduled with the University of Delaware, but both of these contests were rained out. The first game was played with the Union Theological Seminary, and with Bernier on the mound for his first college game, the Tigers won by a score of 21 to 3.

The next two games were with Bridgewater, and the Tigers took both of these by the scores of 4 to 2 and 12 to 5, respectively. Hodgson poled out the first home run of the season with a long fly to left field that went clear over the left fielder's head in the third inning of the first game.

Following the comparatively easy games with Bridgewater, the Tigers played two games with a crack University of Long Island team, that easily took both. Featuring a pitching staff that had the week before inundated a Cavalier team that was considered good, and backed up by accurate fielding and good hitting, the Blackbirds were just too good for a game with Hampden-Sydney nine.

In a loose game with the Medical College of Virginia, the Tigers made more hits than did the Medicos, but defeated themselves by allowing six runs, mostly the result of errors, to cross the plate, while they were able to counter but three.

The team next went to Ashland to play a duet of games with Randolph-Macon. Unused to the grass diamond, and committing a multiplicity of errors, the Tigers dropped the first game to the Yellow Jackets by the very one-sided score of 18 to 1. The second game was a tremendous improvement over the first, and went into the tenth inning before the Jackets scored the run necessary to end the game 5 to 4 in their favor.

Coming out of the slump in the next games, which were played with St. John's on Death Valley, the Tigers successfully annexed both of them. The first was 6 to 3, and the second 9 to 5.

In Richmond, the Spiders walked away with all honors by defeating the Tigers 23 to 1. While in Richmond the Hampden-Sydney nine again played the Medicos and this time defeated them, 11 to 6. On the same trip a strong William and Mary team conquered them at Williamsburg, 13 to 1.

The Tigers returned from this trip to embark on the final tour of the season, which included St. Johns, George Washington University, and Bridgewater. They defeated the Johnnies, 7 to 6, but dropped a hard lose to George Washington the next day, 9 to 7. The Bridgewater Eagles were the final victims of the Tigers in the 1935 season, and with this game Captain "Soup" Campbell, Hodgson, Leake, and Thomas sung their swan song to Hampden-Sydney athletics.

PROSPECTUS

The 1936 call for baseball candidates was answered by more than twenty-five men. Douglass, Ogden, Mayes, Bruce Spencer, Thacker, Moss, Eason, Bernier, and Formwalt were letter men, and several of the Freshmen looked exceptionally good. Rue, Farrar, and Beck, who were on the squad in preceding years, easily made berths for themselves on the varsity, and the opening line-up contained the names of Reveley, Charlie Spencer, Buchinsky, Miller, and Becker frequently.

The season's opener was played in Death Valley against Union Theological Seminary, in which the Tigers chalked up thirteen runs to the visitors' none. Coach Bernier was able to run in numerous substitutes without endangering the victory, and thus managed to look over new men under fire. Delaware proved to be made of stouter stuff, but the Hampden-Sydney nine finally edged them out in the ninth inning to make the score 5 to 4 in their favor.

The next day, Douglass took the mound against a strong Dartmouth nine and held them in check while an inspired Tiger batting spree drove in four runs in the first two innings. However, the Yankees ran in a new pitcher in the third, and allowed the Death Valley boys only one more run in the entire game while they made seven. A ninth inning rally failed to supply the necessary runs, and the home team lost its first game.

The following afternoon Haverford invaded the Tigers' lair to their sorrow, for they were soundly defeated and sent back with the small end of an 8 to 2 score. This game provided a good opportunity for Tiger mentors to test new material, and it was used to good advantage. Taylor Reveley showed good form on the mound.

During the Easter holidays the team took a short trip into Tidewater, but were rained out of all games but the one with Fort Eustis, which they won.

Coming back to school from the short vacation, the Tigers took a thriller from Bridgewater, who boasted the strongest nine in years. With the score 8 to 6 against them with the advent of the last of the ninth, the Tigers put two men on bases, scored once when Limpy White poled out a two-bagger, and tied the score when Bruce Spencer beat out a beautiful bunt. The winning run slid in when the Bridgewater catcher missed a wild throw from the pitcher.

With most of the state games, and especially those in the Chesapeake Conference, yet to play, Coach Bernier finds himself with the best assortment of moundsmen in years. The arms of Reveley and Becker have been added to the proven abilities of Douglass, White, Moss, Eason, and Bernier. So with a cracking good infield and a squad of heavy hitters, we may expect a very successful season.

The opening meet of the 1935 season was held in Death Valley with Randolph-Macon. Both teams were of about the same strength, and the outcome was a tie, 63 all. Ben Rucker established a new shot put record with a heave of 39 feet 9 inches. Randolph-Macon took all three places in the 440-yard dash, and the Tigers retaliated by taking all honors in the pole vault.

The second meet of the season was with Presbyterian Junior College, which the Tigers took, 83 to 34. Dopey Dotson fell short of the broad jump record by a fourth of an inch. Hampden-Sydney took all places in the pole vault, javelin throw, broad jump, and one-mile run.

The undefeated Tigers continued their victorious streak by defeating the Guilford Quakers, 69 to 57. Rucker broke his own shot put record with a throw of the sixteen-pound ball that carried for 40 feet and 3 inches. Captain Owen was the high point man of the day with a total of fourteen points.

Richmond was the site of the fourth meet, which was a triangular affair, with Hampden-Sydney, Randolph-Macon, and Richmond competing. Outdistancing their closest competitors by an overwhelming majority, the Spiders captured the meet with a total of 102 points. The Jackets trailed with 33 points and the Tigers with 17.

The final meet was held at Lynchburg against Lynchburg College, which the Tigers lost, 77 to 49. Ben Rucker broke the shot put record for the third time with a toss of 40 feet 8 inches. Kellam took first in the 220, second in the 440, and third in the 100-yard dash.

PROSPECTUS

The Hampden-Sydney track team lost heavily from last year's crack squad by that old robber of all college teams—graduation. When the call for track was issued by Coach Reveley, it was found that few letter men were in college, and that Sidney Kellam, captain-elect and 10-second man, was not going to participate this season. Bobo Kincaid, Jenos Montgomery, Formwalt, and Hudson were all the letter men back in college. In addition to these, Anderson, Carper, Blackburn, Hoy, and Hazlegrove were back from last year's squad. Building around this nucleus, Tiger mentors formed a rather formidable array of material. In the field day sponsored by the Monogram Club, Will Craft, who constituted practically the only entry of Pi Kappa Alpha, took second place for that fraternity with a total of 21 points. Shepperson proved to have plenty of speed for the 100-yard dash, making it in 10.5 with ease.

In the first track meet of the season, which was held at Norfolk with William and Mary Extension, Williard Craft took 21 points out of the 74 scored by Hampden-Sydney. He took firsts in the javelin, shot, discus; seconds in the 220 and 100-yard hurdles; and was disappointed because he was not allowed to run the 100 and 220-yard dashes. Practically a one-man track team!

The second meet of the season was held in Death Valley against the Guilford Quakers on April 18. The brilliant showing of Craft was even greater than in the previous meet, for this time he copped a grand total of 24 points for the Tigers. He was followed by Bobo Kincaid, who took seconds in most everything Craft took firsts, and won the pole vault, for a total of 15 points. Shepperson took the 100-yard dash in 10.3, and Craft took third. Hudson took the mile and 880, while Hazlegrove took the 440. The biggest surprise of the day came when Fox, a dark horse who had just come out for track, took first place in the broad jump with a distance of 21 feet, 11½ inches.

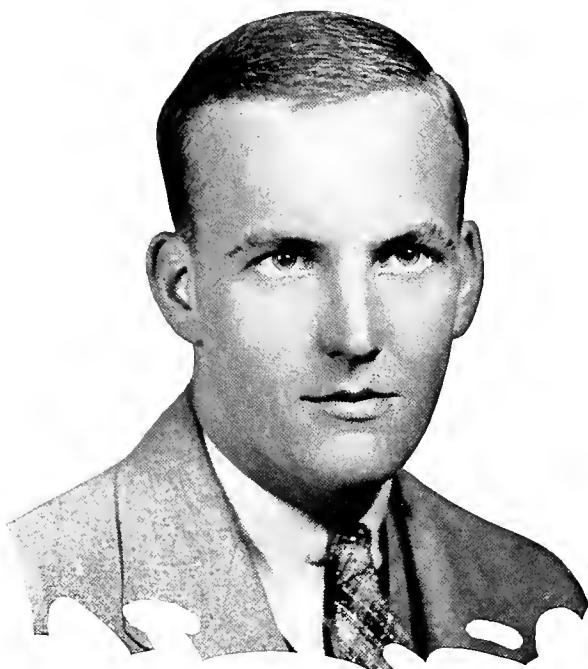

So we find an exemplification of the old adages that every cloud has a silver lining, and that the darkest hour is just before dawn. What looked to be the poorest prospects in years are proving to be some of the best, for with newcomers like Craft, Shepperson, Fox, and Hamner, the latter of whom showed rare form for the 440 and 880 in a practice meet, it looks as if the Tigers should trot through the rest of the season with few if any defeats.

On April 25 the Tiger trackmen invade the domain of the Wake Forest tracksters, and this writer feels that they will emerge victorious.

The TENNIS SEASON

The tennis team has completed its first two matches of the season, the first with Lynchburg College before the holidays, and the second with Randolph-Macon just after, and both on foreign courts. Under the able captainship of "Dynamite" Richardson, the team has been moderately successful, neither being greedy about winning all the matches, or too generous in conceding them to their opponents.

The first matches, held at Lynchburg with the Hornets, netted a decisive defeat to the Tigers. Grizzley Whitman, Bobby Richardson, and the No. 2 doubles team, composed of Thompson and Whitman, were the only winners. The Lynchburg courtmen showed excellent form, especially in the singles, and just simply outclassed the Tiger racquet men. Bad weather and consequently muddy courts had made it impossible for the Hampden-Sydney boys to get in adequate practice.

Just after the Easter holidays the team went down to Ashland and exonerated themselves from the opening defeat by walking away with all but one of the matches played with Randolph-Macon. In the first match, Captain "Dynamite" Richardson defeated George Carr of the Jackets, who had previously beaten the Lynchburg man who defeated Richardson, in two love sets. Bobby Richardson, playing No. 2 man for the Tigers, set back Bill Elmer in two sets with comparative ease, but with some close playing in the second. Thompson, last year's winner in the Hampden-Sydney tennis tournament, won from Edwards in two sets. Bill Leftwich had little trouble with Pettigrew, taking one love set and one six to one. Whitman played consistent tennis by defeating his man, 6-3, 6-3. Hawkins, Freshman from Nevada, who had defeated all entries in elimination matches to decide who should make the trip, walked away with the first two sets against McCormic of the Jackets.

In the doubles the Tigers were not quite as completely victorious. The two Richardson brothers won the first from the Jackets by a 6-2 and 7-5 score. In the No. 2 doubles, Whitman and Thompson lost a heartbreaker to Pettigrew and Edwards. After they balanced the set won by the Randolph-Macon boys with a love set, they lost the deciding set after having victory one point from their grasp. However, Leftwich and Hawkins easily copped No. 3 doubles, 6-3 and 6-4.

The 1936 tournament held here at Hampden-Sydney to decide upon who shall make up the varsity team has progressed far enough to decide the winners. In the first round, Richardson defeated Spencer, Kincaid defeated Whitlock, Baylor defeated Bishop, and Hawkins defeated Buyers. In the second round, Whitman defeated Hawkins, Kirk defeated Spencer, and Baylor defeated Kincaid.

While these results are to a certain extent indicative of the composition of the team, they are not positive. Kincaid and Hawkins will in all probability be regular players.

These two opening games show the Tiger squad steadily improved, and as the season progresses it looks as if they will hit a steady stride and mow down their opponents as did the championship teams of 1931 and 1932. The two Richardsons, Grizzley Whitman, Thompson, Leftwich, and either Bobo Kincaid or Hawkins will constitute the regulars.
